Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Catherine O'Connor Dec. 28

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Catherine O'Connor were conducted from the Galilee Baptist Church on Monday, Dec. 28 at 2 p.m. The pastor of the church officated and delivered the eulogy. The deceased died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lucy Tibbs Christmas Day after suffering a stroke on Christmas eve. She had been in declining health for the past three years. The deceased was described by her pastor as a loyal supporter of the Galilee Church. She leaves the following to mourn their loss: One son, Mr. James O'Connor, of New York City, one sister, Mrs. Lucy Tibbs, of Appomattox, and one brother, Mr. Frank McKinney, of Appomattox, one grandson and several nieces and other relatives and friends. The floral designs were in large numbers.

A very large crowd attended the funeral services conducted at the Galilee Baptist Church last first Sunday morning at the 11:3 a.m. services. The pastor delivered a very helpful New Year's message from the subject "Following Jesus". All present enjoyed the message. Special music was rendered by the Senior and Junior Choirs of the church. Special numbers were given by Sister Becker, of Richmond, and by Rev. C. A. Marshall. The Lord's Supper was administered at the close of the morning services. The offering for the day was very good. A special after offering was taken for Miss Mattie Fleshman who underwent an operation in Lynchburg General Hospital recently.

The Appomattox community was saddin to hear of the death of Mr. George Bennet, of New York. He was a nephew of the late Mrs. Lucy Stephens. Misses Hester and Helen left last Tuesday to attend the funeral in New York. We extend to members of the family our deepest symnpathy

The Farm Mechanics class for Farmers and all interested adults will open in the Carver Price Agriculture Department on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12 at 7 p.m. The class will run for 16 weeks. Class schedule will be on Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. Instruction will be given in repairing and construction of farm equipment and household equipment. The community is asked to cooprate.

Regular evening services will be held at the Promise Land Baptist Church this second Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend the regular preaching services at the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church this Sunday morning at 11:30 a.m.

Heavens to Betsy, oyster stew, biggest and best turkey I ever tackled, fresh ham, corned ham, chicken, pork . . . the works . . . all manner of choice vegetables and I just had to quit after three slices of pie and giant slabs of wonderful cake . . . and no matter how the historians rate the year 1964, it goes down in my book as the year we had Christmas dinner with "Aunt Leonia" Bryant. Church News —

Seventh-day Adventist Church
Pastor D. Clark, Pastor
Nature Work Advances In Land of Vietnam — according letter just in from John publishing department Mary of the Southern Asia ... three groups of literature evangelists are working in Vietnam at present. One group sells books; another, magazines; and a third groups sells small pamphlets. Fifty thousand copies of a beautiful little 36-page booklet on Christian health and religious liberty has just been made available by our publishing house in preparation for this third group to enter the month of July, 97 more evangelists submitted their applications to labor in Vietnam. They worship with 629 hours and sold literally thousands of copies. Forty-four Ps. 246,235 (about 1 in every 1,000 U.S.) People were present at one of whose first contact with the Adventist message was through the printed literature evangelists. Bombs, land mines, hand grenades, and ambush cannot dampen their spirits the spirits of our heroic Vietnamese workmen and publishing leaders. Their faces radiate happiness and their hearts are full of enthusiasm and great plans for the future. God bless the literature evangelists in troubled Vietnam! Signed D. A. McAdams.

High Bradford is the only beef cattle owner participating in the Beef Cattle Improvement Association (B.C.I.A.) in the county. We were looking over his records for 1964. In a year of short grass, and that surely affects milk production, he had three heifer calves to index over 114. An index of 100 is average for Virginia. BCIA is a tool more cattle owners need to become familiar with to measure the cows and bulls in a herd. And is most useful in deciding which heifer to keep for replacements. The big job is identifying the cows and recording the birth dates of the calves. Now is the time to enroll before to many calves hit the ground.

There are 126 bulls on feed test at Culpeper. Those bulls that meet a set standards will be sold in early April. Whether you buy a bull at Culpeper or somewhere else you can have some guide line to go by. Our commercial cattle herds can only be improve by selecting quality bulls if BCIA records are available. The bull should guide choice or fancy. Should have gained two pounds per day on his mother and weigh 500 lbs or better at 205 days. If no records are available, weigh and divide by the days of age to get weights-per-day-of-age. Which should be 2.45 pounds at 210 days, 2.2 lb at 36 days, 2.1 lbs at 16 months and 1.9 lbs at 24 months.

Pire-cured tobacco sales look real good. More than 4.5 million lbs have been sold. Fire-cured tobacco stock are in excellent shape. Only about 2.6 of the crop has gone into the pool. It's estimated that the 1964 crop will be 61 per cent larger than that of 1963.

Feeder pigs are selling good. The next Richmond sale is January 20. Pigs must be vaccinated by December 31. Nomination forms are available from our office. Mr. F. M. Alley had 17 in the December sale that averaged 85 lbs. They brought $17.70 a head. Graded good to 16 were noted.

About the only kind of gardening one can do now is to read the seed catalog. You may like to pick up a copy of Vegetable Gardening in Virginia from our office. This publication contains information on variation that perform best. Here are some varieties that did well in the 1964 trials: contalopes — Burpee hybrid, Goldstar, Saliccy and Harper hybrid; Sweet pepper—Yolo wander; Pole snaps — Kentucky Wander; Pole Lima — King-of-the Garden; Bush lima—Fordhook 242; Sweet Corn—Gold cup, Seneca chief, Honey and cream, and Spring Gold. To get the best varieties order or buy good seed early. Good seed cost little — get the best.

The poinsettia will be used in many homes this week. Frequently we get calls asking how to get it to flower the following year. It's difficult but many people enjoy trying. After the bracts fallen off, start drying the plant. Store dried ot plants in a cool (50 F. dry light place until May. Water lightly, just enough to keep the root and stems from drying out excessively during this period. In May, prune the stems to about 6 inches start watering fertilizer and place outdoors in June. Keep the pots pinched off until early September. Bring indoor, place in sunny window, keep watered and fertilized. The poinsettia is a light sensitive plant. Be sure it gets no light from sundown to sunup even small amounts of light will interfer with the flowering. It may be necessary to cover, if there's a chance light will be turned on the room. The poinsettia requires 14 hours of complete darkness from October 10 until color shows usually around Thanksgiving. Mrs. Gus Torrence has been successful in getting one to bloom. It's very attractive.

DEBBIE SUE HARRIS

"Hello Daddy-Night-Night"

"Hello Daddy- night-night"! It was little Debbie Sue, two years old, speaking to her daddy, Allan L. Harris, stationed abroad the USS Glacier AB-4 in Mc-Murro Sound, Antarctica, near the South Pole.

He had called to see how his family was enjoying the holidays. He has never been able to be with them at Christmas since little Debbie Sue has been born.

It was Monday 2 p.m. down under but still Sunday night in Appomattox. To little Debbie Sue, miles of ice means nothing it was long past her bed-time and after all daddy had just gone "by-by."

Allan's wife Marilyn and two sons Allan, Jr., 7, and Tommy Douglas, 6, chaled with Allan as if he was right there in the living room. He is fine he said and longed to be home with them. He starts his journey home in March.

4-H'ers Recall Exciting Trip

"Making the Best Better" has brought honors and awards to two Virginia 4-H members. Jimmy Martin, 18, of rural Oakville near Appomattox is sectional winner in the 4-H forestry program, and Walter Barbour Jr., 17, of 1112 Lake Court Ave., Lynchburg, is state 4-H photography award winner.

Young Martin was the guest of American Forest Products Industries, Inc., as he enjoyed the banquets, parties and tours that were part of the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

His increasing interest in forestry was responsible for the decision of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Martin Sr., to purchase a 220-acre farm several years ago. Many of the Loblolly seedlings he planted at that time are now 12 feet tall and the number has grown to more than 16,000.

Barbour — Martin

During his nine years in 4-H, he has received various scholarships, which included a trip to the first 4-H Forestry Camp at Jamestown. He is president of the Appomattox County 4-H Council and attends Ferrum Junior College.

Walter Barbour's interest in photography began at the age of five, when he picked up an unattended camera and began clicking for a quadruple exposure. Since then, he has acquired four cameras, his own darkroom and is the chief student photographer of Brookville High School.

He has experimented with scenic landscapes, views of various local landmarks and still life.

His reward is a $25 savings bond presented by the Eastman Kodak Company, sponsor of the photography project.
